

Don't Put it Off

Kyle Raccoon had homework to do
But he put it off to play
He was supposed to clean his bedroom
But that was yesterday

Now his room was even messier
And there was more for him to do
Feed the puppy, fold his clothes
The list just grew and grew

His mom was very worried
Kept reminding him to stop
Playing with his toys and games
So she handed him a mop

"But I don't wanna work right now
I just wanna play"
And Kyle threw the mop down
And tried to run away

But his mom took Kyle in her arms
And held him oh so tight
And said, "Just think how good you'll feel
If when you go to bed tonight

Your homework is all finished
Your room is clean and neat
The floor is mopped, the puppy's fed
And you'll be free to eat"

Kyle stopped his sobbing
Did he hear his mother right?
If he didn't get his work done
There'd be no food tonight?

Uh huh!

Copyright©2015 Pamela I. Young